Comment: This appeal has been taken from the order dated and entered July 6, 2023, that denied Appellant's motion to disqualify the trial court judge in this custody matter. In light of the fact that litigation continues in the trial court, it does not appear that the July 6th order is final or otherwise appealable. Thus, this appeal appears to have been taken from a non-appealable interlocutory order. See Krieg v. Krieg, 743 A.2d 509 (Pa. Super. 1999) (noting that denial of a pretrial motion to recuse is not an appealable interlocutory or collateral order); Pa. R.A.P. 341 (b)(1) (a final order is any order that disposes of all claims and all parties). Accordingly, Appellant is directed to respond within ten (10) days, in writing and copying all parties involved on the reply, as to this Court's jurisdiction over the July 6, 2023 order. Failure to respond to this directive may result in dismissal or quashal of this appeal without further notice

Disposition Comment: This appeal has been taken from the order dated and entered July 6, 2023, that denied Appellant's motion to disqualify the trial court judge in this custody matter.

A Rule to Show Cause Order was issued August 24, 2023, because it appeared that the July 6 th order was not final or otherwise appealable in light of the fact that custody related litigation continued in the trial court. See Krieg v. Krieg, 743 A.2d 509 (Pa. Super. 1999) (noting that denial of a pretrial motion to recuse is not an appealable interlocutory or collateral order); Pa. R.A.P. 341 (b)(1) (a final order is any order that disposes of all claims and all parties). Appellant responded on September 3, 2023, but the response is insufficient to establish this Court's jurisdiction.

Accordingly, the appeal at 1111 MDA 2023 is QUASHED.
